M.D. 11 District Officer Commanding Informs Mayor McKay that Such Action will be Taken—Non-Permanent Militia Unit to Continue Here as well—Lt. Col. Oswald Expected Here Tomorrow with Details of Latest Recruiting Moves—Recruiting for Active Service Forces at Coast Recommendations After Several Days' Lay-off—Men go to Coast This Week from Kelowna—Rocky Mountain Rangers to Recruit Company of Non-Permanent Militia Here

Home Defence Unit to Decide Future Action

THAT the B.C. Dragoons will be mobilized as a Canadian Active Service Force unit, motorcycles, with a strength of about 450 all ranks, is the latest information to reach Kelowna concerning the recruiting of men in the Kelowna district. Lt. Col. G. C. Oswald, O.C. B.C. Dragoons, left for the coast last Friday to consult with officers of M.D. 11 Headquarters and has not returned to the Okanagan. Until his arrival here, definite information concerning the proposal to form the Dragoons into a motorcycle unit is not available. In coast papers on Monday was the information that the Fifth Canadian Motorcycle Regiment will be recruited at the first of next week and Lt. Col. Oswald will command this unit, with headquarters at Vancouver. This statement has not been confirmed.

In any event, a non-permanent active militia group will be continued in the Okanagan, it is felt likely, since the arrival of a letter from Brigadier C. V. Stockwell, D.O.C., M.D. 11, Mayor G. A. McKay, Brigadier Stockwell states: "I may state that the B.C. Dragoons will immediately be mobilized as a C.A.S.F. unit, Motorcycle, with a strength of about 450 all ranks. This will be in addition to the N.P.A.M. unit."

Recruiting Starts

With the sudden departure of Lt. Col. Oswald for Victoria last Friday, recruiting for the active service forces was discontinued temporarily in the Okanagan and Princeton. It recommenced at Kelowna on Wednesday, however, with Capt. J. Pitt-Brooke in charge. Thirty men were recruited at the Glenn Street armory yesterday, while a dozen men left for the coast last night. Formation of an infantry unit of the non-permanent active service forces, to be known as the 2nd Battalion, Rocky Mountain Rangers, begun.

NEARLY $80,000 TAKEN OUT IN BUILDING PERMITS

Two New Residences Started in Last Month—Building Continues Despite War Unrest

Despite the war unrest, building still continues to play an important part in the economic life of Kelowna. Nearly $80,000 worth of building permits have been issued from January 1 to June 30, which, without the school addition and big hospital construction, compares favorably with last year's permits. Building fever is somewhat in June, with only five permits being issued. However, the total was $8,950, to bring the amount up to $79,523.80.

Two new residences were started, one for Ralph J. Brown, $2,000, S.B., in Kelowna, on Abbott street. The other residence is being built for Victor Saunier.

The Canadian Bank of Commerce is making extensive repairs and alterations to the interior of its premises, the building permit being for $600.

Following are the June permits: Victor Saunier, residence, $2,000; W. Longley, addition, $200; National Trust Co. and Canadian Bank of Commerce, interior repairs, $600; Shell Oil Co., storage tank, $1,300; Ralph W. Brown, residence, $3,950.

Parade Down Bernard Avenue to Start Youth Day Activities

Big Afternoon and Evening of Fun and Frolic to Aid Prevention Funds Today—Elaborate Preparations Made

Today, Thursday, at 1:30 o'clock, the big Youth Day parade down Bernard Avenue to the City Park will commence, marking the opening of the second annual Youth Day festivities in aid of the Gordon Campbell Prevention Fund. This event has been planned and arranged by the Kelowna Youth Council, with some 22 organizations participating. It is expected that a large group of children will take part in the parade which goes down Bernard Avenue. Mayor G. A. McKay gives the address of welcome at the city park, following which the kiddies' sports and competitive games will take place and the big Marathon Walk will be commenced. Alderman O. L. Jones will give the signal for the start of the Marathon and prizes donated by local merchants will be the rewards of the winners. Great preparations are underway in the City Park towards setting up of refreshment booths and general

PREDICT DROP OF PRUNES PEARS, PLUMS

Apricots, Peaches and Crabapples Expected to Show Increased Yields This Year

Apricots, peaches and crabapples show increases in quantities submitted by shippers for the 1940 crop to the B.C. Fruit Board recently. Estimates for the apple crop are now being sought by the Board. The Horticultural Branch of the Provincial Department of Agriculture has issued estimates for the apple crop already, indicating that the 1940 yield will show a small decrease over last year's shipments. Plums, peaches and pears are on the decline this year and will represent much smaller crops. The apricot crop is ahead of 1939 by 23,000 packages, but only exceeds the 1938 bumper yield of 240,027 by less than 1,000 packages. The peach crop also represents a record estimate for the past six years and may be 84,000 packages ahead of last year's big yield. More peaches are coming into production in the Okanagan each year.

Crabapples are also in abundance this year although they do not come up to the 1937 figure by 10,000 boxes. On the other hand, there will be no problem of increased production of plums, as the yield this year is down within two thousand packages of the 1935 figure. The estimate is 70,700 packages. Prunes are far down from the over-production of 1939 and a supply of 245,714 packages is expected. This figure is 32,000 packages down from last year, although it compares with the production figure of 1935, which is the second peak year.

Pears will show the smallest crop since 1936 and will be more than 50,000 packages less than the 1939 crop. Turn to Page 5, Story 5

SMASH THE NAZIS YELL KELOWNIANS

CITY FEARS NEW RULING ON RELIEF

Single Men Under 50 and Married Men Under 40 will not Receive Aid from B.C. After July 31

DISCUSS AT U.B.C.M.

Kelowna Points Out that no War Work is Available Here in Comparison with Coast Centres and Burden Here May be Increased

Elimination of single men under 50 and married men under 40 from the relief rolls of the province and city if they are fully employable has been ordered in a circular received this week by the City of Kelowna from the Provincial Government Unemployment Relief Branch.

This department will cease to contribute to the cost of material aid granted to fully employable single men 49 years of age after July 31, 1940, declares the circular. Fully employable male heads, 39 years of age or under, after July 31, 1940, will be eliminated. In the latter cases, however, each recipient's circumstances will be reviewed at the end of the month, and some exemptions may be granted.

Affects 55 Men

Ald. R. F. Parkinson, head of the city relief department, states that 55 men who have been on the relief rolls from January to June 30, this year, will be affected by this ruling. During that period, 160 heads of families have been on the city relief lists.

These 55 men are divided into 30, 39 years and under, married; 16, single; and 9, single men. Whereas the council feels that every group and every person should do its utmost to help the war effort, it feels that this ruling is liable to place a burden on smaller interior centres which will not be felt by the coast cities.

In the interior, Ald. Parkinson points out, there is no war work and after the harvesting season is completed, then work will be scarce. If any of these relief recipients are unable to obtain work, they will be forced to feed them. With this in view, Ald. Parkinson has asked persons in the aforementioned classes to be careful of their earnings this year, as the city council may find it difficult after work is stopped to find any subsistence for them.

Use Schools

Schools will be used as far as possible and if unsuitable the free use of another building is being sought.

Political parties and other institutions are being requested to combine for the purpose of transporting persons to the places of registration or assisting in any other way in this work of national importance. Women's organizations are being sought to assist in obtaining registrations of those in hospital and who are unable to leave their place of residence.

It is not expected that any of these days will fall before August 14th.

TO MEET IN SALMON ARM

Next meeting of the Okanagan Municipal Association will be held at Salmon Arm, commencing at 2:30 p.m. on Tuesday, July 30. It was announced at Monday's Council session. The visiting delegates will be welcomed to lunch as guests of the Salmon Arm Municipality, at 12:30 p.m. Delegates from Kelowna will be decided at a future meeting of the Council here.

Waits 20 Years For Revenge and Lands In Court

For twenty years, K. Hamazumi, elderly Winfield Japanese, had been nursing a grudge because of a rug borrowed and not returned. On Friday, he stood it no longer and taking an axe in hand, he advanced on the home of another Japanese, M. Takeda, and proceeded to smash two chairs, the stovepipe and window.

But it was not Takeda who had borrowed the rug. Twenty years ago Mrs. Takeda was married to another Japanese, who had hearted the borrowing. Her husband died and she remarried M. Takeda. But that made no difference to Hamazumi, for he had to taste revenge.

The attacker was brought into Police Court on Monday and pleaded guilty to the charge. He was fined $10 and costs and assessed $7 for damages. In default he will spend 21 days in jail. Hamazumi is being given a month to find the necessary money.

B.C. FRUIT BOARD SETS REGULATIONS

Licence Fees will be Collected in Similar Manner to Last Year

The British Columbia Fruit Board has recently passed its annual regulations covering the operation of control marketing for the 1940 crop season. The main regulation in the series is that no person shall pack, store or market a regulated product without having registered with and obtained a licence from the Board.

The Fruit Board's area covers from Kamloops south to Osoyoos, west to Keremeos and Cawston, and east to Grand Forks, the Kootenays and Creston.

All persons, or packing houses, who packed, stored or marketed more than 10,000 boxes of the 1939 crop will go into Group A, and those who packed more than 10,000 boxes covering such inspection groups according to the number of thousands and boxes in excess of ten thousand.

The licence fee of persons in Group A will be $125, which is the basic licence fee. All other persons will pay the basic fee and in addition will pay respectively in Canadian dollars equal to 12.5 multiplied by the number of the group of which they are members.

That is, Group 1 will pay the basic licence fee of $125 plus 12.5 times 1, or $137.50. Members of Group 2 will pay $125 plus 12.5 times 2, or $150.

Under the heading of inspection, the regulations state that every shipment of products, whether by freight, express or motor truck, must be inspected by a Dominion Government inspector and a certificate covering such inspection obtained by the shipper. In the case of shipment by motor truck, inspection must take place before the truck is loaded.

SLIDES CAUSE DELAY

Cloudbursts causing slides in the Fraser Canyon between Spences Bridge and Ashcroft delayed train services on both main lines on Saturday. The Canadian National was more than an hour late here, while the C.P.R., which made connections with both east and west main line trains, did not go farther south than Vernon. Passengers and mail and express were brought to Kelowna by bus and trucks.

KELOWNA PARTY RETURNS HOME FROM ENGLAND

Mrs. M. Roberts, Mrs. A. E. Cookson and Family Arrive Back in Kelowna from Old Country

Mrs. M. Roberts, her daughter, Mrs. A. E. Cookson and the latter's two daughters, Jill and Wendy, arrived in Kelowna from England on Wednesday afternoon's C.P.R. train, returning to their former home here after an absence since June, 1939. Mr. Cookson remains in England and is not expected to return to Canada until the duration of the war.

The Kelowna party landed in Halifax last Saturday and arrived in Kelowna yesterday. Mrs. Cookson and family will stay with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Lupton, and Mrs. Roberts will be the guest of Mrs. J. Parkinson.

It was a voyage concluded without any major incident. Mrs. Cookson reports. The convoy consisted of two passenger boats, a prison ship, a battleship, two cruisers and three destroyers, when it left England. The battleship and one cruiser accompanied the boats the entire voyage.

Although no German airplanes were sighted, it was understood on shipboard that an enemy submarine had been destroyed with depth charges from the protecting Navy ships.

"People in England are not worrying about conditions as much as they are here," declared Mrs. Cookson to The Courier on Wednesday evening. "They are really standing up to the strain very well and take a very fine attitude."

Three Choices Face Canadians in Nation's Military War Effort

Director of Information Explains Choices for Courier Readers—May Join Active Service Force, Non-Permanent Active Militia or Await Call of Age Class for Training—Active Service Force May be Sent Overseas but Non-Permanent Militia and Trainees May be Called Only for Service in Canada—Non-Permanents Drill Two Nights Each Week and Have Two Weeks in Camp—Trainees Will Probably Have Six Weeks in Camp

Doubtful If Men Over 34 Called for Some Time

THREE choices are available to Canadian men between the ages of 19 and 45, in their participation in Canada's military war effort. They may voluntarily enlist in the Canadian Active Service Forces for service at home or overseas; they may voluntarily enlist in the non-permanent active militia for service in Canada, or they may await the call of their age class to serve in the non-voluntary active militia for home defence under the national registration scheme, through which men will be called for training as needed.

In an endeavor to clarify some of the contradictory reports which have appeared in the daily papers about the new scheme, The Courier contacted G. M. Lash, Director of Public Information, at Ottawa, and requested a statement from his department to clarify several points which have caused confusion in the minds of many of the men of this district during the past few days. Mr. Lash, on Wednesday, forwarded the following statement to The Courier:

Bulk Cars of Apples on Carefully Controlled Basis to be Sent To Country Districts on Prairies

B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. Takes Drastic Step to Reach More Consumers at Lower Cost—A. K. Loyd Explains Details of New Arrangement to Meet Requirements of Man in Low Salary Bracket—Abuses of Former Years will be Carefully Checked—No Bulk Movement from Okanagan Since 1934—Apricot Shipments Almost Completed with Market Holding Steady

AFTER an absence of six years, bulk cars of apples for country points will again make their appearance on the prairies in this season's apple deal. A. K. Loyd, General Manager of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., central sales agency, announced to The Courier on Wednesday. This is one of the most important announcements of the year, as it means the reversion, in part only, to a form of deal which met with bitter criticism in some quarters when sales were on a strictly competitive basis, one packing house against another.

"We have not come to a snap decision on this subject," declared Mr. Loyd. "We have studied it from all angles and have compared it with the possibility of introducing a sixty-pound crate. We have decided to try it out on a strictly controlled basis for country points only. "We feel that with the deal handled through one office, there should be a real opportunity to get further into the country districts at the lowest cost method we know without sacrificing the growers' interests. That is, to provide him with a reasonable return for his product."

Reasonable Returns

"We must attain reasonable returns and at the same time reach incomes on really low brackets," he explained.

"There will naturally be lots of objections and lots of difficulties. In the past, the bulk deal has led to plenty of abuses, but we believe we can get around these by the new method."

"It is not an ideal way of handling fruit, but we have to adapt our methods to meet the situation as we see it. If conditions have changed radically due to the war, then the methods of the fruit industry will have to be altered to meet them."

"We are hopeful of the proper amount of co-operation from the growers, packing houses and truckers, and it will be our intention to concentrate in particular on a drive in the fall months to see just how many consumers we can find to take our product."

"A lot of organization will be necessary and a lot of difficulties will have to be overcome. I am glad to say that the Dominion Government is behind us in this move, 100 per cent."

Mr. Loyd declared that the views of a great many persons interested in the fruit industry were obtained prior to reaching this decision in the last couple of days.

Better Grade of Bulk

It is Tree Fruits' plan to put out a higher grade of bulk than was given the markets a few years ago. The varieties to be shipped in bulk cars will include Wealthies, McIntosh while they are still hard and firm, some Rome Beauties, Jonathans and sundries.

Definite instructions as to handling this bulk deal will be issued by Tree Fruits and a close check kept on the movement. Tree Fruits will frown upon any attempt by wholesalers on the prairie to pack the apples when they arrive at destination and sell them in competition with standard packs direct from the Okanagan.

In the meantime, the soft fruit

"CAKEFULLY NOTED"

Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King through his private secretary, has informed the Kelowna City Council that its recommendation that enemy aliens and prisoners of war be placed on public works "has been carefully noted." The Council had in mind that men of this sort could be established in a camp on a project such as the Naramata Road.

RAINS DAMPEN FOREST FIRES

Threat in Kelowna Area is Lessened in Last Two Days

With the slight rains of Monday and Tuesday, the forest fire situation is now fairly well under control. It was reported to The Courier last evening. A group of about twenty men and boys left Kelowna on Wednesday afternoon to fight a fire up Mill Creek, near the Glenmore Irrigation District dam.

This fire, which the headwaters earlier in the week but was swung away in time.

There are six fires across the lake on the west side, but none of them is said to be serious. All blazes have been opened down by the rain.

These fires sprang up in the Kelowna district since Friday, when a violent lightning storm struck this area. Four fires commenced in the Beaver Lake area but are under control now, it is reported.

Lightning struck electric light lines in Kelowna and also hit the home of Charles Tucker, at East Kelowna. A small fire was started but was put out with the assistance of neighbors before it spread far.

APPROVE SUBDIVISION

A plan of subdivision of Lots 14, 15, 16 and 17, Block B, Plan 2224 was approved by the City Council on Monday.

"Win the War" Regatta Profits To Go to Minister of Finance

No Strings Attached

Profits realized from the regatta will be sent through Mayor G. A. McKay to the Dominion Minister of Finance, for furtherance of war work, with no strings attached, it was decided on Tuesday evening.

Although the Aquatic directors will be nominating in charge of the regatta, a large proportion of the work will be undertaken by the organizations which have promised assistance. All concessions and refreshment stands will be operated by the organizations instead of the rights being sold to private individuals or organizations as in the past. In this manner, a larger amount of money should be realized.

It is anticipated that a big drawing will be held in connection with the regatta with Women's Auxiliary to the Aquatic in charge.

Another feature added attraction which should prove of real interest will be the bathing beauty contest with contestants entered from all major centres in the interior. This feature has been entrusted to the Kelowna Junior Board of Trade and the Junior Boards or Chambers in Kamloops, Revelstoke, Vernon and

"Canada's military war effort has now entered three main phases, the first is voluntary enlistment in the Canadian Active Service Force for service overseas or at home."

"The second is voluntary enlistment in the non-permanent active militia for home service."

"The third is non-voluntary enlistment in the non-permanent active militia for home service under national registration scheme through which men will be called as needed."

"Under the first phase men will be accepted on a purely voluntary basis as previously for service in the Canadian active service force for duty overseas or at home. No men will be conscripted for overseas service."

"Under phase number two, men may volunteer for service with the non-permanent active militia in Canada without waiting to be called up under the national registration plan. Men who take advantage of this opportunity and who offer themselves for training without waiting for registration will be given training at local drill halls and training centres at night. After they have completed a required period of such training they will be sent to camp for two weeks to complete that training. Afterwards, these men, unless they volunteer for service in the Canadian Active Service Force at home or abroad, will be returned to their homes but they will be eligible to be called up for some defence service at any time."

"Under the national registration plan all men in the country between the ages of nineteen and forty-five, inclusive, are liable to training and service with the non-permanent active militia for home defence only."

After registration, these men will be called up in age groups and will be ordered to camps where they will be given training for three to six months or longer as circumstances may require. After they have completed their period of training they return to their homes."

Vancouver Officers Well Pleased with Local Group's Efficiency

Mrs. A. F. Nation, Chief Commandant of the Vancouver detachment of the B. C. Women's Service Club, and Mrs. John A. Harker, Adjutant, were visitors in Kelowna this week. While here, they inspected the local detachment at its regular Monday evening parade and expressed themselves as being well pleased with the excellent work being accomplished in Kelowna.

Mrs. Nation and Mrs. Harker were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jeffery Hale, of Okanagan Mission.

THURSDAY, JULY 18, 1940

Public Disappointed

Hon. R. B. Hanson and Hon. Grote Stirling have rejected the Prime Minister's proposal that they should join the War Committee of the cabinet as associate members. They take the stand that acceptance would violate a cardinal principle of government, namely, that of responsibility without power.

Were they to sit on the War Committee they would either have to support the proposals of the Government or to oppose them. To support them against their better judgment would be dishonest, and to oppose them in the House would render their position in the committee untenable. No man can run with the hares and hunt with the hounds.

The Prime Minister's second offer of weekly consultations at which the Opposition Leaders would receive secret intelligence is declined on the ground that confidential information frequently proves a source of embarrassment, and there is always grave danger of confidences being unwittingly violated.

Canadian public opinion will sustain Mr. Stirling and Mr. Hanson in the position they have taken. That same public opinion will regret that they have not been able to accept even this small olive branch which has been so gingerly offered by the Prime Minister. Everyone would have been much happier had they seen fit to accept in the hope of a more reasonable attitude developing on the part of the Government. However, they have refused and the soundness of their position cannot be denied.

Both men have followed a patriotic course since hostilities commenced by co-operating with the Government in all measures necessary to ensure victory. That course they propose to continue. But they insist that the creation of a truly National Government is imperative in the present crisis.

Mr. King had a golden opportunity to increase his stature in the eyes of the Canadian public last March after he had won his triumph at the polls. But he passed it by. At that time, just after his policies had been overwhelmingly endorsed and he had been accorded the greatest personal endorsement ever given a Canadian statesman, had he, then, generously, taken one or two Conservative members into the cabinet, he would have been called the outstanding statesman in the country's history. But he chose to continue with his party government.

Now he finds himself faced with a public clamor for an end of party government and he cannot accede to the demand without radically altering the course he has followed during the past few months.

The move made in New Zealand as announced this week may prove to be the loophole which will save the situation. Mr. Stirling, Mr. Hanson and Mr. Coldwell might be taken into a War Cabinet but remain divorced from the general administration of the country. In the War Cabinet, of course, they would have some responsibility.

Within recent weeks the Prime Minister told Parliament he hoped he would never lose his respect for public opinion. If he was sincere—and we do not question his sincerity—he will now recognize that public opinion is definitely opposed to him on this question of whether or not he should create a truly National Government.

The people of this country had hoped that in his reorganization of his cabinet he would surround himself with forceful administrators representing all shades of political thought and who would provide the impetus which is so necessary now. The fact that he has reorganized his cabinet and denied one-half of the population, which is required to pay its share of the cost, a voice in the councils of the nation and the conduct of the war effort has weakened public confidence in his leadership. This, in itself, makes it more difficult for him and his colleagues to harness the latent energy of this mighty young nation.

Mr. King's responsibility is to the Canadian people. The unfavorable reaction to his recent Cabinet shuffle being apparent, he should even at this late date take the necessary steps, through the proper channels, to create a truly National Government.

Relief Policy Sound

It is important to note that the new British Columbia policy designed to reduce relief rolls applies only to able-bodied, employable persons. The physically unfit will still be cared for but healthy, single men under the age of fifty and married men under forty must get out and hustle. Farmers and ranchers throughout the province are crying for help; it is becoming increasingly difficult to get even unskilled men to assist with the fruit and other crops. At the same time the farmers are burdened with taxes levied to pay relief bills. It doesn't make sense. Moreover, there is national defence and there are war industries seeking workers. If an employable man doesn't relish farm work, there are other jobs becoming increasingly available.

Fair-minded people will commend the provincial government for the efforts it is making to eliminate non-essential expenditures. The government has reason to believe there is work for all employable men who are physically fit. Incidentally, those earning good wages during the summer and autumn should save enough to put them through the winter.

The Weeklies Help

The part the weekly newspapers of this country are playing in the present war emergency is illustrated by the fact that Mr. Lash, Director of Public Information, made a special flight from Ottawa to Calgary to attend the Canadian Weekly Newspapers convention being held in that city, and to discuss informally with the weekly editors many of the problems of the country.

Mr. Lash had sought the co-operation of the weekly newspapers in several directions. "Sometimes," he said, "I am inclined to think that the weekly newspaper editors of Canada underrate their own importance in our social and cultural life. As far as I am concerned, there is no such under-valuation and it is my conviction that the position of the weekly newspapers will become increasingly important as, under the stress of events, our economic structure changes. Because I believe this, I intend to keep you more fully informed than ever of what is going on in this country, not so much with a view of publication of the material in the form in which it is sent to you, but in the hope that it will prove useful to you, after your own fashion, in moulding public opinion and in directing public action."

Mr. Lash sought the weeklies' assistance in the distribution of certain pamphlets which his department will shortly be issuing. The first of these will probably be enclosed in copies of this paper shortly. The weeklies are being asked to help with the distribution of certain recruiting and other posters, to secure speakers and arrange suitable dates for speakers and to sponsor the showing of a number of special films the department is preparing.

The weeklies are asked to continue to give their support with all their vigor to the money raising projects of the Government. They are urged to preach with all their might the doctrine of courtesy to the American tourist and to stress the point that every dollar these visitors leave in Canada is returned immediately to the United States to purchase much needed materials of war.

They are urged to give their full support to the reception of "guests," not as a duty, but as a high privilege.

After outlining these points and many more Mr. Lash said: "I have one last word to you. Let us all stop wishful thinking. Let us face the stark realities of the situation which are that everything we have believed in, everything we have clung to, everything we have lived for, now stands in the most awful danger. It is our war, and it is a definite possibility that before we are through with this thing we may have to fight it out in Canada. These facts should be faced, but we should face them with courage and determination. There is no reason for despair as long as we believe in ourselves and the things we stand for. I say to you, as a man who saw much fighting overseas in the last war, that the German has still to be born who can beat us if we want to win."

Youth Congress Deflated

Weakened numerically by withdrawals and with its original aims discredited, it was a chastened Canadian Youth Congress that concluded its convention in Montreal recently. A report condemning the War Measures Act, the Defence of Canada Regulations and the Mobilization Act proved too much for the out-and-out loyalty of many members. Then disintegration began.

Affiliated organizations protesting by withdrawing included the Montreal Presbytery of the United Church Young People's Union, Montreal Board of Directors of the Young Women's Christian Association, the National Co-operative Commonwealth Youth Federation, the International Milliners' Union, the National Council of the Y.W.C.A., L'Association des Jeunes Canadiens-Francais du Manitoba, the Greater Winnipeg Young Men's Liberal Club, the South Winnipeg Young Men's Liberal Club and the Winnipeg Youth Council.

This prompt and effective action called for decision and courage, and these the spokesmen for withdrawing affiliates revealed, to their credit. It is not easy for you to break definitely with associates in any organization, but the call of country was stronger than sentiment.

In the withdrawal announcements there was no mincing of words. A woman delegate declared the Congress was "not taking any stand in support of the war effort," and that "we will not be affiliated with any group which does not wholeheartedly support Canada in her struggle against enemies within and without." Another spokesman declared the actions of the Congress constituted "a flagrant misuse of democratic rights and a cynical misrepresentation of facts"; adding that "no one here expressed the views of responsible youth."

The most encouraging feature of this split in the Congress is its indication that Canadian youth is realizing its responsibilities. Youth is wise when shown the folly of any particular course, and it is not too proud to admit mistakes. One section of the Congress report declared against "pitting" the youth of one country against the youth of another. Genuine Canadian youths are not fooled by that kind of thing. They know there is only one way to combat the evil represented by Nazi youth—to get out and fight it. This is no time to be prating about sentiment. There is a struggle to be won.

The Canadian Youth Congress has been the victim of subversive elements "boring from within." In all such organizations agitators are more active than the rank and file. They have their definite objectives. A dozen individuals with a plan can influence the policy of large bodies. Because the Congress yielded to this influence it must pay the price; and the price is its loss of support by loyal Canadian youth.

When asked recently if he would consider declaring the Congress an illegal organization under the Defence of Canada Regulations, Minister of Justice Lapointe said: "I do not know that it is necessary to declare the association illegal or that it deserves such doubtful glorification or recognition." The situation is summed up in the Minister's further comment: "The Congress no longer represents Canadian youth."

The Technique of Invasion

By WILLSON WOODSIDE

To Get Down to Practical Details on How Hitler Would Go About It, and How the British Would Stop Him!

Willson Woodside

For two months now, ever since the German drive reached the Channel ports, we have talked about the invasion of Britain (and it was discussed in this column months before that). Let us get down to practical details: how is Hitler going to invade Britain? And how are the British going to stop him?

Undoubtedly the Germans have saved some diabolical new devices and treacherous tricks for this, their supreme effort. Indeed, they will have to, for they cannot take England with any of the methods which have won them their successes on the Continent. They cannot sweep in with their tank columns at full speed over a flat, unfortified border, while at the same time destroying half the defending air force before it ever left the ground as they did in Poland. They cannot assemble an armada in peace in far-away harbors, to sneak up narrow waters and fall on an incredibly unsuspecting and unprepared victim, as they did in Norway. They are not dealing with a small neighbor with an insignificant air force, on whose territory they can drop parachute troops at will, to co-operate with a powerful Fifth Column element, as in the case of Holland. Nor can they rapidly deploy in England overwhelming strength in machines and men, as they did in Belgium and France. The Channel prevents that; we can imagine what the French might have done with a 20 to 120-mile moat along their border.

Hitler may seek to overcome this moat by using light air-borne tanks, heavy amphibious tanks or ordinary land tanks transported to the English beaches in flat-bottomed boats with ends which will flag to the wind. He may seek to overcome the defenders with a new gas (strange that it has not so far been used in this war) or bombardment by long-range guns. But such devices, though they have some surprise value, cannot conquer Britain any more than the parachute troops alone conquered Holland or the air-transport troops Norway.

In the first case the German Army had to force its way in through the land defenses (most of the 12,000 parachutists are reported to have been destroyed), and in the other the necessary heavy equipment had all been taken in by ship before. The point is that in both of these countries, as in Belgium and France, fully-equipped land armies had to be brought into action.

So it will be in Britain. To conquer her Hitler must land a large army, with all its equipment, on her shores. To do that he has got to secure control of a stretch of the intervening water area of the air over it, seize a bridgehead on the opposite side, and move hundreds and hundreds of ship-loads of men and guns, tanks and anti-aircraft equipment, ammunition and supplies over. Mr. Churchill has said that as few as five divisions (and the Germans used 100 in the Battle of Paris) would require some 200 ships. Talk as you will about secret weapons and what-not, there is a very practical problem which Hitler has still got to solve. Napoleon camped with his Grand Army at Boulogne for quite a time and failed to solve it. But admittedly Hitler has far greater technical resources at his command.

Might he not, for instance, as "Life" Magazine suggests in a striking illustration this week, throw a mine curtain across either end of the English Channel and set his submarines on guard behind this to keep British warships out, blanket the sky with his planes, dominate a wide area around Dover with his long-range guns, and then send his transports across from a number of French and Belgian ports at once, screened by artificial fog or smoke and conveyed by fast motor torpedo-boats, while paratroopers and air-transport troops created diversions all through the Isles?

How could Britain thwart such a scheme? To begin with, if Hitler can lay mines, we can sweep them up, and with a good deal more freedom, since we control the seas. We can also lay mine curtains of our own, as we have done all up the East coast of England and Scotland and more recently across the North Sea frontage of Denmark and Norway and further along to Iceland and even Greenland—though such a vast stretch of mines must necessarily be laid rather thinly. As for the concentration of submarines, probably nothing would please the Royal Navy more than to get so many within hearing distance of their wonderful "Asdic" and reach of their murderous depth charges. If they could not prevent Thames barges and paddle-wheelers from taking the men away from Dunkirk, they will not keep our destroyer flotillas out of the Channel.

Neither were the German motor torpedo-boats effective off Dunkirk. Nothing illustrates the German weakness at sea more than the fate that they would have to rely mainly on such vessels to convey their invading force. The editor of a leading British naval hand-book estimates in a recent issue of "War Weekly" that Germany has now no more than four battleships, including the so-called pocket battleships which are really only heavily-armed cruisers, four cruisers and 19 destroyers. Britain can dispose in her home waters ten great battleships, not four, but forty, cruisers, and close to a hundred destroyers.

It has been suggested that Hitler will keep these out of the Dover Straits with his long-range guns at Boulogne and Calais. No gun yet built is accurate at 20 to 25 miles, at which the muzzle is pointed almost straight in the air and the shell comes almost straight down, like a bomb. The great gun with which the Germans shelled Paris from 80 miles away in May, 1918, was not accurate within 10 miles or so and was only useful for its scare value. 20-mile guns could not keep Britain's battleships from entering the Straits or hit her fast-moving, dodging destroyers, and in any case these ships could operate behind a smoke-screen. It is extremely doubtful if the Germans could mount enough of such guns to drive our defending forces from the opposite shore. If they tried, would not that be a confession of the failure of the bombing plane to do these jobs?

Kelowna In Bygone Days

(From the files of the Kelowna Courier)

THIRTY YEARS AGO

Thursday, July 14, 1910

"E. Bailey, who has been engaged in the 'art preservative' for the past three years in Vancouver, returned home on Friday and will assist his father for the next few months in the Post Office. This week his skilled assistance is proving of great value to the depleted staff in his old stamping-ground, the Courier office."

"The Kelowna Land & Orchard Co. is putting in an additional water supply system for domestic purposes from Canyon Creek, the old system being now inadequate to the demands made upon it due to extensive settlement of the Company's lands on the Bench."

"Major Bennett, District Staff Adjutant of Military District No. 11, inspected the books, arms and equipment of the Kelowna Civilian Rifle Association last week and found everything in satisfactory condition. He is much interested in the project to form a military corps here, which was mooted two years ago but was allowed to drop due to intimidation from the Militia Department that no funds would be available at that time for new corps. It is now proposed to ask the Department for authority to form a battery of mountain artillery, a branch of the service not hitherto represented in Canada and one eminently adapted to such a country as British Columbia. Falling artillery, in regard to which there may be difficulty in securing equipment, a squadron of B.C. Horse will be formed."

At a special meeting of the City Council, held on July 14th, water was granted to the Kelowna Association of sufficient ground in the Park, to the south of the Aquatic Pavilion, to permit of erection of a permanent grand stand, the term of the lease to be nineteen years, at an annual rental of $1,000, and the Association was given control of the Park during the days of the Regatta.

The annual baseball game between the Professionals and Commercials resulted in a win for the Commercials by 7 runs to 2.

At a meeting of the Board of Trade, it was decided to collect fruit and make exhibits in the district exhibit and the "Two-Two" class at the forthcoming National Apple Show in Vancouver, and a grant of $400 was made towards the expense involved.

A survey was being carried out at this time by R. H. Parkinson, P.L.S., on behalf of the Provincial Government, of a road route from Glen Robinson, in the Peachland district, to Princeton, via the Trout Creek pass.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Thursday, July 15, 1920

"The railway companies are not offering the same low rate of transportation to fruit pickers as in former years. Last season, the rate from the Coast to the Okanagan was one cent per mile, while this year it is two and one-quarter cents. The return journey will cost full fare."

"The ancient C.P.R. wharf has been receiving its annual patching. This time the repairs have taken the form of replacing the worn decking with new planks. Like the celebrated Dutchman's knife, with new blades, the wharf has been reborn bit by bit several times over, and the end of its venerable existence would seem to be not yet."

The City Band realized a total of $349.10 from the tag day held on July 9th for their benefit. The money was derived from the following sources: share of gate receipts, athletic events, $42.50; dance receipts, $186.00; tags sold by ladies, $120.60.

The s.s. "York," which had operated in the C.P.R. service on Okanagan Lake for some twenty years, was transferred to a new sphere of activity on Dog Lake on July 10th. The voyage down the Okanagan River was made successfully, despite many sharp bends and sandbars, and the veteran craft was scheduled to provide better communication for the lower Okanagan in connection with the railway branch from Penticton to the north end of Dog Lake.

r.p.m.'s column

MIDSUMMER IN THE garden is a race between the gardener and his enemies. Which is ahead . . . the gardener or the weeds and pests? As one looks over many of the home grounds, the gardener is seen to be limping badly and to be somewhat out of breath. But the weeds and pests are going strong. The weeds can live on soil where plants will die, even after long and tender coaxing. When the gardener disposes of one crop of wicked bugs, the next morning an equally powerful army is feasting on his pet plants, growing fat and sportive on the soil enriched by his fertilizer and faithful watering. The sun, too . . . as usual, I suppose . . . is hotter in midsummer than in April. It seemed a capital idea to spade up that garden plot in those stimulating spring days, but now with the thermometer well into the nineties, the idea doesn't seem to have been such a hot one . . . Of course, the experienced gardener has an answer to these objections. He will tell you to get up early in the morning . . . Four or five or six o'clock in the good old summer time . . . when the air still has some of the qualities of spring. He hoes down the weeds before they attain a saucy and impudent height that makes it hard to rip them out without endangering the plants . . .

PERHAPS THE FEW WORDS above may convey the impression that, on this Monday morning, I am not too enthusiastic about Nature. It is a fact, anyway. Since the snow stopped flying, Nature has been playing a game with me and making sport of my efforts to keep my home looking half-way presentable at least. And this Monday morning Nature has me down and out, so discouraged that I think the best thing to do is to capitulate unconditionally and let Nature have its own way . . .

BUT IT ISN'T THE weeds and bugs that I mind. After all, they are natural enemies and one expects them to do their damndest to win the battle. And one can take suitable measures to keep them in their proper place . . . It is the trees that should be one's friends that have me down. They are doing a quailing, a double cross; or maybe it is a Petain, a desertion to the enemy . . . But I shouldn't blame all the trees. The maples and the mountain ash do everything to co-operate as loyal and friendly allies but the lindens on the boulevard and the huge willow which dominates the entire front lawn seem to have gone definitely over to the enemy . . .

r p m

MAKE NO MISTAKE about it, I like trees. It nearly breaks my heart to see a tree cut down; I hate to see even a limb cut off and when a tree is beset by a storm, I almost feel that a military funeral is in order . . . But that willow tree on my front lawn is slowly, but oh! so surely, changing my sincere affection to a deep and undying hatred . . . A year ago, I literally burst with pride and pleasure when guests commented "What a lovely tree." Now when they do it . . . and they invariably do . . . I think, "Yes, it looks alright, but you do not know its true nature. It is the most perverse creature I have ever known and it would tickle me to death if you would just take it along home with you" . . . Slowly during the past two years my affection has changed to annoyance, annoyance to resentment, and now the resentment is changing to a deep and lasting hatred. I feel the darn tree is laughing at me . . . Its long, graceful, drooping branches are a thousand hands thumbed to a thousand noses . . . As I sit and look at it, in the branches I can see formed a thousand eyes and every eye has a vicious leer . . . I might forgive that but when the tree gets together with every breeze and chuckles and chortles and grins and howls with laughter, all at me, that is a little too much . . . Some day, I promise myself, I will get an axe and put an end to the devil inhabiting my erstwhile friend . . . It's fine for Winston Churchill to say that one should not be resentful of the ravings of a stricken friend but this one-time friend has deliberately and intentionally set out to make sport of me and it isn't stricken . . . yet . . . One can bear just so much . . .

r p m

WHAT IS WRONG WITH the tree? Well, a hundred times since the snow last few I have carefully swept, cut and trimmed the lawn and within two hours of the completion of the job, the tree has deliberately messed it up again. On Sunday, for instance, I rose in those early hours before the sun had had a chance to make a little physical work too unbearable, and I swept and cut and trimmed and watered. For five hours I worked, and at the end of that time I sat me down on the steps and contemplated the results of my work. I thought about the linden trees on the boulevard. They had contributed largely to the mess I had had to clean up, but there was no resentment in my thoughts as I have a sneaking suspicion that they like a wetter climate than this, and if a few leaves dry up and drop off, they are to be pitied. Anyway, the leaves are large and can easily be gathered up . . . Then my eyes dropped to the lawn and I smiled to see how splendid it looked, newly-cropped and leafless. Not a single little yellow leaf marred its march of green. Raising my eyes to the willow which spreads its welcome shade over more than half that front lawn, I asked the tree: "Don't you think the place looks better without a litter of your branches and leaves? And don't you think a clean lawn beneath adds beauty and staidness to yourself? After all, a beautiful woman or a picture or a tree must have a suitable setting to be properly appreciated. Try to do better this time, won't you, old dear? Just keep those leaves and branches to yourself for a little while" . . . Was it wishful thinking or did I actually see the tree give a little nod of agreement that carried a touch of repentance? Anyway, I went to my shower quite bucked up with the results of my work and the thought that there wasn't a breath of air to egg the tree to forget its good resolution . . .

r p m

POOR, FOOLISH MAN! Two hours later I looked out the window and saw that the tree had double-crossed me. Sold out entirely to some little devil of a breeze which had crept up unknown to me, seduced the tree and then went blithely on its way. The lawn was covered with millions of leaves. Five hours of work had been rendered useless in five minutes . . . And I sit here this Monday morning, scarcely able to move for a sun-burned back, the only reward for my five hours' effort, and with the knowledge that the lawn will have to be swept again immediately . . . Yes, I know I hate that tree . . . and how! The pity of it is we could have been such friends. Outwardly it is a lovely tree but it has the nature of an affrite . . .

DO YOU KNOW WHAT has become the most popular birthday gift? And anniversary gift, and, as a matter of fact, a gift for any purpose? Couldn't you guess? War savings stamps or certificates, of course. It's a natural! The next time you are wondering what to give your wife or son or daughter or anyone else, just consider the war certificate angle. You help Canada's war effort, too . . .

LIVELY "INJUN"

QUESTION "Does a motor act more lively with one oil than another?"
ANSWER Yes! Some oils make motors sluggish with harmful residues. But "RPM" is made by a special

TWO SAILING RACES HELD BY OK. MISSION

Kelowna Sailing Club Races Started from C. Renfrew's Wharf—Children Christened in St. Andrew's Church

The Kelowna Sailing Club held two races on Sunday starting from C. Renfrew's wharf. In the morning only two boats sailed the five mile course to Swardy's and back. Archie Stubbs won this race by the narrow margin of one and a half minutes from the other contestant, E. H. Oswell. In the afternoon, H. Maranda, Arthur Lloyd-Jones, Malcolm Chapin and E. H. Oswell set sail in a very light wind and E. H. Oswell came in first on the two and a half mile course.

Miss Primrose Walker was home on Wednesday of last week and returned to Kamloops the same day.

Ladies of the Parish Guild have collected fifty dollars towards renovating the Mission Ward, which is still in the old part of the hospital.

Miss Mary Bull left last week for Vancouver, from which port she is taking a boat trip to Alaska.

Miss Joyce Haverfield, at the Interior of B.C. tennis play, won the ladies consolation-singles and partnered by J. Neal, of Rosland, was second in the Mixed Handicap event. Others from the Mission competing in this tournament included Mary Stubbs, Winifred Baldwin and Isobel Wadsworth.

Miss Margaret Chamberlain arrived from the coast on Tuesday and is a guest of her aunt, Miss F. Pease. Accompanying her from Vancouver were Mrs. Harold Willett and her small son.

In the afternoon, children from Miss Franklin's Sunday School and their brothers and sisters were baptised by Rev. S. N. Dixon, who gave a ten minute address to the congregation of about forty persons. Mrs. Murdoch played the organ for the two hymns. The following is a list of those baptised at the two services:

Indians Blamed by Peachland Council for Burning of Cabin

North Fork Cabin is Destroyed Completely—Baptist Y.P.S. Hold Assembly—Peachland Couple United in Marriage

A report on the burning of the North Fork cabin was received by the Peachland Council at their meeting on Tuesday evening, July 9. According to the police report received the burning had been done by Indians, probably from the Nicola, as evidence found around the ashes of the burned log cabin indicated that Indians had been in that vicinity at the time of the fire. Tools used by the Peachland Irrigation District were burned.

A report into damages claimed by P. Gaynor when horses broke into his property was made by Councilor E. E. Eddy, who had investigated the claim. He stated that there was not 10 cents worth of damage left alone $10 worth, and that a row of corn which had allegedly been replanted because of damage done by the horses was too far advanced to have been planted after the damage had allegedly taken place.

No action was taken by the Department of Municipal Affairs on the hospitalization fees of an enlisted soldier. In unorganized districts these claims were met by the Provincial Government, a letter from this department stated. The Council felt that should any large number of men enlist from this district, such a demand on the municipality might be more than could be met.

Councillor J. H. Wilson stated that there was no shortage of water in Trepanier Creek but in case of such a shortage the lights should be run on Saturday morning and Sunday afternoon. A resolution to this effect was passed by the council.

Further information was sought regarding a fence along the power house property, requested by J. Clements, before this could be granted.

A copy of the final licence for the location of the power house dam was received for filing.

A request to use the electric light poles for telephone service to a private house was refused.

The sum of $348 from the Government of B.C. as the share of the motor vehicle grants was reported received by Municipal Clerk C. C. Inglis.

The municipal office will be closed for the first two weeks in August to allow Mr. Inglis to take his holidays.

The general accounts for June amounted to $336.22 and for relief $33.35.

Assembly Disbands
Dr. Wolverton and Mrs. F. Pattison, of West Summerland, were in charge of the Baptist Young People's Assembly, which broke up on Friday, July 12, after a week's session at the Trepanier Auto Camp. Young people from the Kootenay and the Okanagan were present and study groups and serious discussions were relieved by swimming and recreational activities. The final day of the assembly, Thursday, was a gala day with many visitors present and a water tournament providing fun for all. Thirty-five young people registered for the assembly.

Whinton—Heighway

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized on Wednesday, July 10, at the home of the bride's parents, Margaret, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Heighway, was united in marriage to Charles Orris Whinton, of Peachland, but formerly of Winnipeg. Rev. H. C. Inglis performed the ceremony, and the bride, who was unattended, looked charming in a pale turquoise ensemble with tiny, pink buttons trimming the front. She wore a picture hat of white straw and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations and fern. Mrs. W. E. Clements sang "Because" during the register signing, after which the guests, who were only the immediate relatives, were served a buffet luncheon. The bridal pair left by motor for a trip to Kamloops and upon their return have taken up their residence here.

A shower was held on Monday evening, July 8, in honor of Miss Peggy Heighway on the lawn at the home of Mrs. C. C. Inglis. Mrs. Inglis, Jr., acted as hostess and was assisted by girl friends of the bride-to-be. Seated in front of a floral arch strung with colored lights, the lovely fairy-like scene. A miniature house with lawn and gardens had a tiny bride and groom standing on the steps. From the roof of the house was removed it was found to be piled high with gifts of all kinds. Following the presentation of the gifts, Master Allen Garlinge presented a beautiful bouquet of flowers. Refreshments were served by the hostess, who was assisted by Mrs. C. Haker, Miss Sheila McKay, Miss Edith Duque-

THE TECHNIQUE

Of all Hitler's difficulties, however, the greatest one seems to me to be the problem of how to assemble his transports in secrecy or to protect them from an attack if he assembles them openly, as Napoleon did. One possibility is that he might attempt to use the barges of which Germany, the Low Countries and France have such huge numbers on their inland waterways, hoping to bring them unnoticed towards the coast and hide them in the canals there until he is ready to use them. It is reassuring to read that the R.A.F. are daily bombing strings of barges coming from Germany along the Dutch canals. It is also bombing, and will continue to bomb, any shipping concentrations which it finds in German or German-occupied harbors. This is a very different situation than that attending the invasion of Norway. Contrary to general opinion the British Intelligence Service did know that transports had been collecting for months in German Baltic ports, but it did not know where they were bound and the R.A.F. was prevented from bombing them by the foolishly squeamish conception of warfare held by the Chamberlain Government.

It is nevertheless possible that under cover of darkness Hitler might land a number of small forces on the British coast. But he has then to convert the landing into an invasion. He would have to move a large and steady stream of troops and supply ships at a known place, and tie them up at a dock and unloading point. This would mean complete control of the sea and the air at this particular place. Considering the lesson of Dunkirk, can the Wehrmacht count on achieving this? We could move our men, because we controlled the sea and disputed the air. But we couldn't embark our tanks and guns. Could they disembark theirs? In spite of all his technical resources and his tricks, invasion is not going to be a simple matter for Hitler in face of Britain's sea and air power, her armed watchfulness ashore and the constant observing and harrying of his preparations by the R.A.F. This time, and for the first time, he is not being left in peace to perfect his plans and choose his own time and place.

PORTRAITS ARE HIGHLY PRAISED

At a recent meeting of St. Stephen's College Board, at Edmonton, a resolution of appreciation was passed to Mrs. Fannie G. Ogden, wife of P. T. Dunn, City Assessor, who recently completed two fine paintings for that Board. In addition to the agreed remuneration for the two portraits, the Board unanimously agreed to the payment of a special honorarium in consideration of the work. Mrs. Ogden's portraits were of Mrs. George Maurice, Stuart and Cecile Gordon have also returned from a holiday of two weeks spent in Kelowna.

More Westbank boys have offered their services to their country, these being Howard Crowe, Jack Drought and Mr. Burrell. Still more plan on going soon.

Mrs. C. E. Clarke, accompanied by friends, including Miss Jean Cornell, left recently for a holiday to be spent in Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Moffat, of Penticton, were visitors at the home of Mrs. A. R. Pritchard last week. Other visitors from Penticton included Mrs. J. Fell and Miss Helen Mallory.

Miss Bastedo, R.N., of the staff of Kelowna hospital, was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Mackay, during last week.

Mrs. W. D. Gordon returned home from Kelowna on Thursday last, after several days spent with her min, Miss Joan Maddock, Miss Geneva Bain, Miss Cleo Espin, and Miss Margaret. Decorations were in charge of Mrs. E. A. Baptist.

Rev. Fringle Arrives
Rev. George Fringle arrived on Friday evening, July 12, to take up his duties as minister of the United Church here and at Westbank.

Induction services held on Friday evening at Westbank were most impressive, with Rev. and Mrs. McGilvray, of Penticton, and Rev. and Mrs. Ashford, of Summerland, present.

Rev. and Mrs. Glenholme and four children, of Penticton, were visitors in town last week to attend the Baptist Young People's Assembly.

Hamilton Long, of Vernon, has been the guest of his brother, Grant Long, for the past several weeks. He is a former resident of Peachland.

Dr. Gordon Whyte, of Winnipeg, and Brynna Whyte, of Vernon, were visitors in town last week.

Mrs. A. Smalls returned to her home here on Monday, July 8, after a trip to Vancouver, where she attended the funeral of her brother-in-law, George Tickell.

Miss Patricia Woodward, of Penticton, was a guest of Miss Sheila McKay recently.

Mrs. Cope, of Kelowna, was a recent guest of the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Long.

J. Adam, who is a brother of Mrs. C. Duquemin, was a guest at her home last week, leaving for his home in Winnipeg on Friday, July 12.

A sale of raspberries and home cooking was held by the Women's Association of the United Church on Saturday afternoon in the Municipal Hall.

HOME-MADE JAM FOR CANADIAN SOLDIERS

The Army diet may contain a wide variety of canned jams, but a group of Toronto women are going to see to it that some soldiers overseas get a taste of the tastier home-made brand. Here is a type of service the soldiers will be able to appreciate with the strawberry and raspberry season at hand.

RED CROSS News Notes

All Canadian Red Cross supplies shipped overseas are going to Britain, as it is impossible for the Canadian or British Red Cross Societies to make shipments to Europe, P. W. Tuffrey, B. C. Red Cross Commissioner, has announced. Blankets collected for suffering refugees and wounded soldiers in France have not been sent to that country as the Red Cross could not take a chance on their falling into German hands. The first shipment authorized before the French armistice was diverted to England, where they will be stored until needed. The remainder, about 60,000, will be held in Canada. Already the Dominion Government has asked for the loan of a quantity of them to equip colonist cars carrying overseas children to their destinations in Canada.

British Columbians have donated over 8,000 blankets in answer to the Red Cross call for blankets. More than 75,000 have been given throughout Canada.

"Voice of Red Cross" will be heard each Sunday from 2.50 to 3.00 p.m., Pacific Standard Time, over the C.B.C. network.

Red Cross branches have now been instructed to accept "good as new" washed or cleaned used clothing, to be remade, if necessary, and stored locally for use of refugees in Canada. No used clothing is being shipped overseas.

came known in Kelowna over the week-end. A company will be formed in Kelowna, it is understood.

Lt.-Col. E. Poole, M.C., of Armstrong, is Officer Commanding this 2nd Battalion and Capt. J. H. Horn, Kelowna, is Adjutant at staff headquarters.

Companies will be recruited in Kamloops, Revelstoke-Salmon Arm, Vernon and Kelowna, to make up 650 all ranks.

Whereas the R.M.R.'s are an infantry unit, it is expected that the Dragoons N.P.A.M. will continue as a mechanized unit as before. First parade of the Dragoons was held at the armory on Wednesday night.

At Kamloops, the R.M.R.'s company has Thos. Aldworth in command. A. M. Grimmett of Revelstoke, is in command of the Revelstoke-Salmon Arm company, and Major M. V. McGuire, Vernon, is in charge of the company in his city.

G. D. Cameron

It was stated in Kelowna yesterday that G. D. "Paddy" Cameron, who was appointed Commander of the Volunteer Home Defence Unit in Kelowna on the departure of W. Shugg, will be company commander of the R.M.R.'s.

Col. Poole is expected in Kelowna today to make arrangements for recruiting at the armory here. Recruiting is expected to commence within the next day or two. The construction now, however, until we can catch up. The whole thing today is the war; the big thing is to win it, and the next thing is our internal conduct—to maintain those things we have achieved, our health, education and similar legislative advances. Are we going to lose the benefit of that? Let us endeavor to lose no ground, not to slide back."

The Premier also gave a stirring message regarding the future of Canada's westernmost province. He spoke of the possibilities of British Columbia, and reiterated his policy of immigration.

The "Railway Years"

In giving a background for this, he spoke of the "railway years" following Confederation, when the transcontinental lines were being built. Millions were poured into such construction and even greater millions into the development of private enterprise that came hand in hand with the advancement of the "era of steel" and the development of the trunk railway system.

Paralleling this railway construction was the flow of immigrants from Europe and the opening up of the country as a whole. "Then came a cessation of the railway building and business construction as well, and most important of all, the stopping of immigration. Naturally, with the flow of business stifled, there came unemployment."

Mr. Pattullo was bitter against what he termed "national cheese-paring," and re-affirmed his conviction regarding immigration and prosperity. "We have got to get more people into this country. I made this statement on public platform fifteen and twenty years ago, and I do it again today."

Canada is faced with the problem of absorbing refugees and ex-acquies, he said. There will also be a great many adults in Great Britain, following this conflict, who will want to leave that country. Again advocating their removal to Canada, he said their moving to this country would benefit both the country and those who came to it.

Favors Conscription

Speaking of Canada's war effort, Mr. Pattullo said he had always favored conscription and certainly some form of compulsory training. Had such a plan been worked in conjunction with, or instead of, the "relief camps" it would not only have meant that Canada would have had a fairly well-trained force to call upon, but it would also have meant that the discipline the men learned in such a corps would have prevented the loss of morale that many experienced.

The speaker gave an outline of the various stages of the "gas strike," and then went on to tell of the new oil field the government is exploring. He said that this new field is far larger than the famous Turner Valley. The Alberta field is only 25 miles long by about two and one-half miles wide. The field where the government is at present exploring is more than 70 miles long with an unknown width, certainly far greater than that of Turner Valley.

Stating that he considers the new field has every chance of success, he said by September some com-deal continues to roll along at a satisfactory pace. The apricot deal is almost completed and the movement has been steady with supplies just about equalling demand. The Washington market went to pieces midway through the deal but the Canadian market was maintained at an even keel.

Last week, 129 cars of fruit and vegetables left the Okanagan, being made up of 401 mixed cars, 24 straight apricot cars and four cars of cherries.

Duchess cookers opened last Monday, with picking for order only, the opening price is $1.35 started to appear from the south while tomatoes are rolling in volume. Four baskets are selling at $1.25 and lugs, semi-ripened and mature greens are quoted at $1.50.

The North Pole of an American compass is called the South Pole on a French or Chinese compass.

Junior Fish and Game Session
At Penticton Proves Praiseworthy

Interior Junior Sportsmen Conduct Convention in Business-like Manner and Pass Many Sound Resolutions

With a number of projects in view for the forthcoming year, the Interior Fish, Game and Forestry Protective Associations ended their convention in Penticton on Thursday night. Indication is that the movement will become eventually a province-wide one, possibly with C. V. Sandiford, of Kamloops, founder of the groups, as provincial organizer.

There is also a likelihood that girls' clubs will be formed as well as those now operated by the boys of the Interior. A group of Penticton girls approached Mr. Sandiford during his stay there, asking his aid in this. It is understood this, in common with the boys' organizations, will have the full support of the B. C. Game Commission.

Commencing their day with a parade down Main Street, led by the Penticton Sea Cadets Band, the boys opened their convention at 10 o'clock on Thursday morning, with G. V. Sandiford as chairman for the opening. Jack Forbes, President of the Kamloops club, was elected as convention chairman.

The young sportsmen then heard a stirring, constructive address from J. G. Cunningham, of the B. C. Game Commission, pointing out the importance of the game laws, and the need for the sportsmen to support them. Mr. Cunningham said he looked upon their groups as the finest association in the province. The reason for this was stated as the construction work undertaken by the boys, and also because they represent the sportsmen of the future—when British Columbia will need, and will have, trained sportsmen.

Evidence that the sportsmen of the future, as represented in the membership of the Junior Fish, Game and Forestry Protective Associations, of the Interior, will be able to conserve British Columbia's great resources of game and woodland was given in the many resolutions discussed and passed by the boys during their convention. The recommendations of the Interior clubs covered a wide field and presented in clear-cut fashion the trend of thought followed by the junior sportsmen.

Not only would the resolutions presented do credit to adult groups, but in many cases they were presented with a strength of argument and an understanding of conditions that amazed the game authorities. Penticton produced a number of resolutions. One asked that more stringent regulations, bringing about curtailment of the number of cats and dogs, be enforced by provincial and municipal authorities. It was pointed out that these animals constitute a considerable menace to young birds and game.

Coarse Fish

A lengthy discussion regarding methods of ridding lakes of coarse fish followed the discussion of the resolution concerning this was put forward by J. Watt and B. McDonald, of Penticton. This was then passed.

Another idea put forward by Penticton was that fish in ditches should be protected, and also that more food should be supplied to lakes that are short of it. Commissioner Cunningham, asked to speak on this, suggested that this would be an excellent project for the Penticton and other junior clubs to undertake, obtaining shrimps from some lakes and placing them in others.

The final Penticton resolution was to the effect that feed be provided to junior clubs, for them to feed to birds during the winter months and to assist the local game warden in such work.

The first Kamloops resolution asked that junior associations should have written permission from the Game Commission to salvage stranded fish from creeks. This would form part of their conservation work, it was pointed out. The second resolution suggested that a number of barren lakes be left unstocked for future use, leaving these for a period of five years. Both these resolutions were adopted. The Commissioner said he considered this a splendid move, and he had no doubt it would be adopted.

Change Fish Limit

A change in the limit of fish was also recommended, the suggestion being that the limit of 15 fish be altered to 10 pounds and one fish. This would mean that persons catching one or two large fish would not have their limit, and thus would act to protect the large fish. Use of canning machines for canning sport fish was also banned by the convention, which further recommended that "No Fishing" signs be erected in lakes newly stocked and not open for fishing.

The Empress Theatre's part in the Canadian movie industry's drive to promote the sale of war savings stamps went over with a bang on Monday night when Manager L. V. Campbell reported that $451 worth of stamps had been purchased as a means of obtaining admission to the free show his theatre presented that evening.

The amount is the more remarkable when it is remembered that the Empress Theatre seats some 708 persons and the price of admission was the purchasing of only 25 cent stamps. In other words many persons purchased the stamps and did not attend or bought stamps far in excess of the necessary amount.

The theatre's contribution goes much further than the stamps sold. Many persons were started on a stamp buying program and many folders now containing only two stamps will be filled out with four-teen additional stamps in the weeks to come.

The local theatre's effort was in co-operation with the other movie theatres throughout the Dominion who contributed their services to the country for this one evening. It was expected that a million dollars worth of stamps would be purchased by the public in order to obtain courtesy admission tickets to the theatres. The theatres bore all the expenses and the entire proceeds from the sale of the stamps went to assist in Canada's war effort while the purchasers retained the stamps and will cash in on them with their other certificates when they are redeemed.

The members of the City Council, accompanied by their wives, attended the theatre in a body.

The Benvoulin United Church held its annual picnic on Wednesday, July 10th, at the Gyro Park. Many parents and children gathered there and had an enjoyable time. In the evening, the young people held a beach party.

Glenys Gillard, accompanied by Phyllis Holland and Hazel Berard, cycled to Penticton last week and spent a few days with her sister.

Bert Hall, of Los Angeles, was a visitor of Leon Gillard and many of his old friends last week. He left for home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilkinson and family left last week by car for the prairies, where they will visit their relatives and friends.

Miss Margaret Smith, who has been training for a nurse at St. Paul's Hospital, returned home to spend her holidays with her parents. She was accompanied by Miss Pollen, who is visiting with her.

A key resolution passed by the gathering read: "Considering that the work of the Forestry Department is paramount to the objects of conservation, and that without the forests no wild life as we know it would exist, it is resolved that the Forestry Department be approached and our services be offered within our means toward reforestation work."

This resolution, which passed unanimously, was highly commended by Commissioner Cunningham and by other adults at the gathering.

Other resolutions concerned unfettered by-laws, operation of summer camps, and the age limit for members. It was agreed that the Kamloops by-laws be adopted as standard for all clubs.

Vancouver Players Make Clean Sweep of Finals in Big Tournament Concluded in Kelowna Last Saturday—Brawn and Jocelyn Pease are Only Two Double Winners—Class of Tennis in Finals Best Seen Here for Several Years—Men's Doubles Title Won by Brawn and Berto after Five Gruelling Sets

FIVE Vancouver stars captured all five open titles at the 18th annual Interior of B.C. tennis championships, which concluded on the Kelowna Lawn Tennis Club courts on Saturday afternoon, July 13. Caroline Deacon and Jack Brawn were the outstanding singles players, while Jean Eckhardt, Jocelyn Pease and Jimmy "Bugs" Bardsley shared doubles honors. Jack Brawn and Jocelyn Pease were the only double winners of the tournament. The former swept through Jim Bardsley in two out of three strenuous sets for the men's singles title and then was extended, with his partner Tommy Berto, to five sets before capturing the men's doubles. Jocelyn Pease partnered with Jean Eckhardt, young Terminal City star, to take the ladies' doubles crown and then went on to pair with Jim Bardsley for the mixed doubles honors.

Although the entry list has been large, the class of tennis played in the tournament staged last week was better than for some years past. Caroline Deacon's hard-driving shots in the ladies' singles final last Thursday afternoon were too good for her less experienced opponent, Jean Eckhardt. Caroline regained the crown which she lost last year to Jean Milne, in straight sets, 6-4, 6-3. Her work at the net was one of the conclusive features of her play and she gained many valuable points thereby.

This final was played on one of the hottest days of the year and the temperature ran around the 100 mark on the courts. Jean Eckhardt showed the strain of the heat first and was visibly tired by the end of the match.

Fine Men's Singles

By far the best singles final for the past three years was played on Saturday afternoon, when Jack Brawn's efficient court coverage and wonderful backhand cross-court whips proved too strong for his energetic opponent, Jim Bardsley.

Brawn captured the first set without much difficulty, 6-2, but faltered perceptibly in the second to lose 4-6. In the third set, Brawn regained command and blasted Bardsley from the court with a 6-4 victory.

It was hard hitting tennis and seldom did the players revert to a pat-ball game. Many splendid recoveries and tricky drop shots kept the spectators interested throughout. If Bardsley had rushed the net more, he would have had a better chance of beating Brawn, who is Vancouver city champion.

Most interesting final of the afternoon involved four prominent Vancouver players. On one side were Jack Brawn and Tommy Berto, while Jim Bardsley and Jack Ritchie faced them on the opposite side of the net.

Bardsley and Ritchie combined well to take the first two sets by scores of 6-4 and looked well on towards victory. Brawn's opposition stiffened noticeably in the third set and Berto also started to play a better type of game, not allowing his opponents so many easy jobs in front of the net.

The result was that Brawn and Berto swept through the last three sets to take the final when Bardsley and Ritchie appeared to have it in their grasp.

The ladies' doubles final was not as sensational a match but provided a close struggle. Down five games to two in the first set, Caroline Deacon, Vancouver, and Mrs. C. Brunette, only Kelowna player in the finals, fought back and took it 7-5. However, they could not withstand the steady playing of their opponents, Jean Eckhardt and Jocelyn Pease, who won out in the next two sets, 6-2, 6-2.

Brawn appeared well on his way to coping with his third title when paired with Jean Eckhardt in the mixed doubles. These two won the first set from Jim Bardsley and Jocelyn Pease, 6-2, but the latter couple rallied to the challenge and took the match 6-4, 6-4. Bardsley defeated J. Ritchie and J. Brunette, 6-4, 6-2; T. Berto, Vancouver, defeated J. Neal, Rossland, 6-1, 6-1; J. Bardsley, Vancouver, defeated F. Bolton, Vancouver, 6-3, 6-3; J. Ritchie, Vancouver, defeated F. Taggart, Kelowna, 6-1, 6-0.

Semi-finals: J. Brawn defeated T. Berto, 6-2, 6-0; J. Bardsley defeated J. Ritchie, 6-2, 7-5.

Final: J. Brawn defeated J. Bardsley, 6-2, 4-6, 6-4.

TENNIS CHAMPIONS

Seen above are six of the Vancouver tennis stars who competed in the finals of the Interior of B.C. tennis championships at the Kelowna courts last week. No. 1 is pretty Jean Eckhardt, runner-up to Caroline Deacon in the singles and winner with Jocelyn Pease in the ladies' doubles. No. 2 is Jack Brawn, the men's singles champion and the outstanding singles player in B.C. today. No. 3 sees Caroline Deacon, suburban-haired singles champion. Under that farmer's hat in No. 4 is Tommy Berto, who paired with Brawn to win the men's doubles. That fellow breathing and grinning through his teeth is none other than the well-known Jimmy "Bugs" Bardsley, who is probably better known on the basketball floor than the tennis court. Jimmy plays a very useful game of tennis and paired with Jocelyn Pease to take the mixed doubles. Under, in No. 6, is Jack Ritchie, who wields a racquet from the port side. He was Jimmy Bardsley's partner in the men's doubles final.

and D. Cattermole, Vancouver, defeated D. Misener and H. Shirreff, Kelowna, 6-0, 6-1; J. Brawn and T. Berto, Vancouver, defeated D. Witte, San Diego, and S. Angus, Trail, 6-1, 6-4.

Semi-finals: Ritchie and Bardsley defeated Bolton and Williams, 6-2, 6-1; Brawn and Berto defeated Stohlberg and Cattermole, 8-10, 11-9, 6-4.

On Tuesday evening, the tournament players and guests to a beach party at her Vimy Avenue residence. On Wednesday the players took in the Aquatic dance, and on Saturday they were guests at a cocktail party, arranged by tennis executive members at the home of Mrs. M. Simpson, 179 Bernard Avenue.

Other tournament finals saw Jack Neal, of Rossland, defeat W. Fullin, Kelowna, in the men's consolation singles. Miss J. Haverfield won the ladies' consolation singles from Mrs. G. Meikle, Kamloops. KELOWNA BALL
CLUB RESTS IN SECOND PLACE

Has Good Lead Over Kamloops Nine, That Quit Game at Vernon Last Sunday—South Okanagan Loop Needs Schedule End

With more than half the season gone, Kelowna's ball club has a comfortable hold on second place in the Interior Baseball League but has not been able to overhaul the hard-hitting Vernon crew. Vernon has dropped only one game, and that to Kelowna, while seven victories have been chalked up. Kelowna has won five and lost three and Kamloops has won three and lost five. Revelstoke occupies the cellar spot with only one win in eight starts.

Last Sunday, Kelowna played smart ball at Revelstoke to blank the railroaders by a 6-0 count. The northwesterners could not touch Bill Richardson's offerings, while Kelowna slapped in four runs at the outset to set pretty for the rest of the game.

Young Revelstoke hurler, replaced Lonzo for last Sunday's placement and made a good showing after a shaky start. He allowed Kelowna only two runs after the initial flurry.

At Vernon last Sunday, the fiery Gaul, Joe Beruschi, took violent exception to the calls of Zel Monsees, Vernon umpire, and called his team off the field when the Okanagan squad had a 4-1 lead halfway through the sixth canto.

Beruschi, always good for a few laughs and a lot of fun in any ball game, went the limit at Vernon when he waved his team off the field and poured the players into their cars for the homeward trip, with the game only half finished. This was only accomplished after a great deal of vituperation on Joe's part.

Vernon plays at Kamloops next Sunday and fireworks are expected to be the order of the day. Revelstoke appears at Kelowna on the same day.

League Standing
Vernon 8 7 1 14
Kelowna 8 5 3 10
Kamloops 8 3 5 6
Revelstoke 8 1 7 2

In the South Okanagan League, the Westbank Blue Caps pulled off the surprise of the season by setting back the all-conquering Highland Bell Miners at Beaverdell by a 12-4 count. This was the only defeat suffered by the Miners this season and places Westbank well on to a comfortable spot in third place.

Peachland, because of injuries and loss of players to the army, has been forced to drop out of the league. Peachland defaulted last Sunday's game to Rutland and waives its right to contest two games with Beaverdell.

The July games left in the league schedule, therefore, implicates the Westbank Yellow Jackets and the Westbank Blue Caps. Then, the play-offs will commence with the Blue Caps against Rutland and a sudden death game on the latter club's diamond for the right to meet Beaverdell in a two out of three series for the league championship.

Application of the Full Gospel Assembly to hold street services in Kelowna was turned down by the Kelowna City Council on Monday evening, but permission to hold these services in the City Park, at the discretion of the Chairman of the Parks Committee, was granted.

Mayor G. A. McKay remarked that Sgt. A. Macdonald, of the B.C. Police is "definitely opposed" to such street gatherings.

Ald. Gibb suggested that, if the council refused to grant such an application, the Salvation Army would have to be denied similar privilege.

Mayor Hughes-Games, pointed out that the Salvation Army has special privileges throughout Canada, due to their charitable work. There are only a few members taking part in the Army's street services, it was stated.

ENGLISH CHILDEN FIND HAVEN IN CANADA

Among the first contingent of English children to arrive in Canada as war guests was a group of 25 brought to a place of safety by Mr. Wallace R. Campbell, president of the Canadian Ford organization. The children were welcomed to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Campbell in Windsor, Ontario, where they were cared for until placed in their new homes. Some of the children posed for a "family group" with their host and hostess, left to right, Tony Hampson and Peter Daniels, in back row; Mr. Campbell and four-year old Peter Fowler seated on a toy fire truck. Another 100 children will reach the Campbell's home later on under an arrangement made between Mr. Campbell and Lord Perry, head of the Ford company in England. Many of these will be war guests of families in the Ford organization in Windsor. These children are not a part of the movement of children under the Government plan.

CONSIDERATION OF TAX GIVEN GUESTS' HOSTS

Deductions for Charitable Donations Clarified—Guests' Hosts to be Given $400 Exemption

Hon. J. L. Hiley, Minister of Finance, has announced that it is proposed to amend the Income Tax law to provide exemptions, to the amount of $400, for children from the war zones brought to Canada under arrangement through the Government as guests in Canadian homes for the duration of the war.

Exemptions granted for charitable donations were also clarified by Mr. Hiley in the course of discussions in the House of Commons. Five well-known national organizations, the Canadian Red Cross Society Fund, the Canadian Legion War Services Fund, the Canadian YMCA War Services Fund, the Salvation Army Red Shield War Services Fund and the Knights of Columbus Canadian Army Huts Fund, are given special consideration under the Act. Gifts to any of these organizations are allowed as exemptions up to fifty per cent of the donor's income.

On donations to other charitable enterprises deductions are allowed up to ten per cent of income. England's biggest slot machine owner is reported to have made as high as $2,500 a week.

Remember 1934 When It Was 101 If You Say This Summer is Hot

Only Three Days Show Thermometer Over 90 This Summer—1938 Had the Longest Stretch of Hot Days in Past Eight Years

Who said it has been hot? You and all the rest of Kelowna and district said last Thursday and Friday that it was insufferably hot. But Dave Chapman, the Government Weather Observer, bobs up with some interesting statistics which knock those thoughts into a cocked hat.

Not once in June did the government thermometer on Hurvey Avenue go to the 90 mark. On July 1, it rose to 93. On Thursday, July 11, that figure was again reached, and on Friday, July 12, 96 degrees were registered. On Saturday, Sunday and Monday, the thermometer only reached the 80s.

Last year, the hottest days, July 28 and 27 and August 4, the day after the Regatta, registered 94 degrees, and that was the hottest it became.

Whereas there have only been four days so far this summer when 90 or over has been registered, last summer there were thirteen such days. The record since 1933 was in 1938, when sixteen days were shown. The year 1937 had eight such days, 1936 had nine, 1935 had four, 1934 had seven and 1933 had fifteen.

In 1933, on July 26, the thermometer was up to 95 degrees and on four other days in July and August it was up to 94. One day in June had 93.

July 27, 1934, was the hottest day ever recorded by Mr. Chapman. On that day it was 101 degrees and that was really hot. The day before, it was 94 and on July 28 it was 99. Then, on July 29, it dropped back to 90 degrees. Only two days in 1934, July 14, 92; July 22, 93, and July 24, 90.

No hot days were registered in June, 1936, but there were seven in July, the hottest being on July 22, when it was 95. On July 19 and 20 it reached 94. On August 4 and 9, 90 was reached.

Another couple of 95s were shown on June 28 and July 25, 1937, and on August 1 it was 92.

But 1938 had the most prolonged hot spell. On June 21, it was up to 96, on June 23 it was 93, and June 28 and 29 saw 90 degrees. Twelve days in July showed over 90, the peak being on July 16 and July 22, with 97 degrees. On no day in August, 1938, did the thermometer even register 90.

Of course, these were not the hottest temperatures registered in the Kelowna district, not by a long way. But the temperatures given in Kelowna show an even comparison with similar government thermometers across Canada.

The thermometers are placed in a slatted box unprotected by any shade and seventy-five feet away from any building or obstruction. Ventilation is provided by the slats on the sides, and the thermometer is sufficiently high above the ground to escape the heat waves from the earth.

So, when some one says that it is hot, just thumb the pages to 1934 and say, "Now, you remember in 1934 when it was 101..." and then run for cover before the irate listener, who has been mopping his fevered brow, explodes completely and entirely.

There has been a decided lack of rainfall in the Kelowna district. Nearly a third of an inch of rain fell in June, the last being on June 26. That has been the only moisture to fall from June 5 to the present time.

The soil in this district is crying for rain and there is a great forest fire hazard in the hills at the present time. Many districts are fearful for their water supply.

KELOWNA AGAIN DROPS DECISION TO KAMLOOPS

League Leaders Hold First Period Lead and Break Aces' Hearts with a Last-Minute Splurge—Novicki Plays a Great Game

Down four goals in the first period, Kelowna Aces fought back to within two goals, with less than two minutes to play, and then blew up, to allow Kamloops a 12-7 victory, at the Kelowna City Park on Friday evening, July 12.

Throughout the final stanza, Kelowna was pressing hard and looked for a time to have a fine opportunity to catch up. But the team went up higher than the proverbial kite when the Burnt brothers combined to shower Tony Novicki with shots and score three goals in the final couple of minutes.

The game was interspersed with violent lightning flashes and claps of thunder, but none of the bolts seemed to arouse the Kelowna squad sufficiently to allow them to charge home to victory.

Tony Novicki played a great game between the nets and turned in his best performance of the season. Time and again the Kamloops players rained shots on Novicki from close range, but they were stopped. George Foster Mills was outstanding for the Kelowna septette, scoring four goals out of the total seven. Harry Smith and the two Burnt brothers combined well for the visitors.

Kamloops had an edge on the play throughout, as their slick handling was superior and their offensive attack more finished. The Aces did not handle their passes as well as in some previous encounters. The result was that six players found themselves in the penalty box at one time. With four men on the floor on each side, Kelowna took full advantage of the opportunity to close the gap somewhat.

Hodgson and O'Brien rapping in counters and bringing the half-time count to 6-4, in favor of Kamloops.

Again, in the third period, three players on each side crowded the boxes, but the Aces were not able to close the gap that time, Kamloops stalling sufficiently until the full time was intact once more.

It was 5-5 in Kamloops' favor going into the last stanza and, with half the period left, Mills and Hodgson had scored to more than offset Wasylyk's counter and bring Kelowna within two goals, 9-7.

Kamloops had a distinct edge in shooting, having 46 shots recorded to Kelowna's 25.

Play To Draw

The Rutland and Kelowna baseball teams played another exhibition game on Thursday evening, when they went six innings to a 2-all tie. Darkness prevented playing the seventh inning. Gourlie was on the mound for the town team and had enough on the ball to prevent Rutland from getting any score until the fifth inning, when Schneider and Holisky scored on a drive by Henry Wostradowski. Kelowna's runs came in the same inning. Bedford and Boklage scoring on an error and a hit by R. Kielbiski. Henry Wostradowski chucked four innings for Rutland, mowing down the opposition in great style. Paul Bach took over in the fifth and finished the contest. The teams are trying to arrange another game in Kelowna this Thursday.

Each team was unable to field a team on Sunday for the scheduled South Okanagan League contest, and the game had to be scratched.

Girl Guides Camping

The Rutland Company of Girl Guides left on Saturday for their annual camp at Petrie's Corner, on Woods Lake. Sixteen attended the camp, under the leadership of their captain, Miss Evelyn Scott, assisted by her two lieutenants, Miss Doris Schell and Miss Alwina Kitchin. So far, they have been favored by excellent weather and are enjoying the swimming, rowing, and other outdoor activities. On Friday next, the Boy Scouts will go to camp at Okanagan Centre.

The first of what is expected to be a series of enjoyable dances was held at the Rutland Park pavilion on Friday evening last, July 12. A large number of young people attended this opening dance, which was held especially in honor of Wm. Hardie, Jr., who has enlisted in the Air Force. The heavy thunderstorm added to the thrills of the dance, the pavilion being an open-air affair, with only a roof to ward off the elements.

Parts of Rutland were drenched with a heavy downpour on Friday night, which provided welcome moisture, although there is no shortage of irrigation water here as yet.

Slow Postal Delivery
What with censorship and everything, Swiss people near the German-Swiss border complain it takes 22 days sometimes for the delivery of a letter from a Swiss town to a German point 15 miles away.

Hundreds of visitors from almost every section of Canada and the United States have visited the Aquatic in the last few weeks. All of the visitors are loud in their praise of the setting and facilities at the Aquatic and envy us for having them. Many also comment most favorably on the attractiveness of the Park and on the general cleanliness and brightness of the city. And remember that these comments are not from local people whose civic pride might make them prejudiced. They are from outsiders, many of whom have covered the rest of B.C. and much of Canada and the United States.

Other pleasing comments come from ex-Kelownians, such as Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McKie, who have returned for holidays. Even if they have only been away a short time, they notice and praise the improvements to the Aquatic and Park. The swim classes are now well under way. About 300 beginners up to fourteen years of age turned out at first and the number has been increasing since. The response is most heartening and demonstrates that the parents are more and more appreciating the value of these swim classes which the Aquatic and the City co-operate to supply free of charge.

During the present hot spell, the popularity of the Aquatic is further shown by the number of local and visiting persons who come down after supper for a cool, restful evening on the verandah. They sit and chat or watch the sunset or the swimmers, sail-boats, war canoes or shells which are usually out at that time.

Sunday, July 7, found several crews out for trial spins. Harold Burr, our hard-working Rowing Club secretary, had a full day, taking no less than five trips with novice and junior oarsmen. . . . Other crews gave the beginner a hand, such as Alvin Krasselt, Phil Chapman and Len Hill. . . . The Junior crew of Cliff Davis, Damer Verity, Fred Thompson and Cece Heighes is showing the lead in the proper Rowing Club spirit and they get out regularly every morning at six o'clock. . . . If the seniors don't start to move soon, this crew will be giving them a race for the right to represent the Club in this regatta.

Another new man with the right spirit is Joe Capozzi. . . . He is out sculling every morning and is fast developing into a proficient oarsman. . . . The Vancouver Rowing Club has expressed its desire to visit Kelowna again for the regatta. Alice Thomson is assisting in the free swim classes, while Dot Smith is coaching those who wish to learn to dive properly. . . . Good work, girls!

The Wednesday night dances are now in full swing, and entertainment is to be provided at each of them. . . . The quartette which sang at the theatre last winter will perform from time to time and a new singer or two with a couple of dancers are in the offing. . . . It has also been suggested that a real cabaret dance be held some Wednesday night this summer, with tables on one side of the hall as well as on the porch. . . .

The Wednesday night dance last week was a honey for attendance and enthusiasm, with the tennis crowd from Vancouver, as well as the locals, enjoying themselves to the utmost. . . . The divers put on a grand display under the lights, the crowd lining the balcony for this treat. . . . The new quartette composed of Kay McKergow, Tiny Walrod and Hugh and Crete Shirreff, with Dick Messner at the keyboard, went over big. . . . The new number composed by Tiny Walrod was well received and the crowd really went for the encore, absolutely demanding more.

APPLE PRODUCTION SURVEY STARTS

Ottawa Group Arrives in South Okanagan for Useful Work

A survey of apple production and marketing was started last week in the Okanagan Valley by a staff from the Economic Division of the Dominion Department of Agriculture. The first work will be done in the South Okanagan, and the field survey will be completed in about two months, it is expected. The information that will be secured will be useful to the Dominion Government in undertaking any program of assistance in marketing the 1940 B.C. apple crop. Members of the party making the survey are Dr. A. E. Richards, Dr. S. C. Hudson, J. E. O'Meara, G. C. Elliott, B. A. Campbell and H. Trevor.

This survey is being made in response to repeated requests from the B.C.F.A. over the last several years, and President D. M. Rattray has asked the growers to give the members of the party whole-hearted co-operation.

Rain Needed Badly in All Parts of Okanagan Fruit Area

Crops Sizing Well but Some Will Suffer if Drought of Past Weeks Does Not Lessen

In every section of the Okanagan there is a general need for rain, as there is a heavy shortage of soil moisture. The latest Horticultural News Letter indicates that crops are sizing well and that a fine quality of fruit is being obtained, but if the drought of the past two weeks does not lessen, some crops will suffer. Following is the complete report for the districts from Salmon Arm to Osoyoos and Keremeos:

Salmon Arm, Sorrento and Main Line Points

As reported July 3rd: No rain has fallen during the past two weeks, and temperatures have been running high with several extremely hot days. High winds have occurred which have further served to dry out crops. Soil moisture is becoming short in some locations and rain is badly needed for most crops. Strawberries are practically over the picking season being cut short by the dry conditions. The crop was disappointing. Raspberries are now coming in at Salmon Arm, but, unless rain comes, they will meet the same fate as the strawberries.

Cherries are beginning to move from Salmon Arm, and the fruit is of very good quality. The set of prunes is light. Other tree fruits are coming along well, both at Salmon Arm and in the western section of the district. The crop so far is exceptionally free from damage by either pest or disease.

The pea crop, especially on bench lands, is suffering from lack of water, and the extreme heat of the last few days has aggravated the situation, in fact all shallow-rooted crops need rain badly. Vegetable crops at Kamloops and Ashcroft are coming on rapidly. A few semi-ripe tomatoes are making their appearance. New potatoes are moving from Kamloops, also a full line of root vegetables.

Armstrong, Vernon, Oyama, Okanagan Centre, Winfield

As reported July 5th: Since our last report the general situation in regard to agricultural and horticultural crops has somewhat changed. The intense heat and drought of the past two weeks has revealed a heavy shortage of soil moisture, and many crops are showing signs of suffering from drought conditions. Irrigation systems are going full force and the heavy demand is creating quite a problem in getting the water on fast enough for crop demands.

In the orchards all tree fruits are at present sizing satisfactorily, but some blocks are showing signs of moisture shortage. A great many prune blocks are showing signs of real distress from a combination of insect infestation and apparent drought injury. In some blocks this may be serious enough to affect the sizing of the crop. The sweet cherry crop is moving into its last stages for the current season, with a start being made on the picking of Lamberts. The quality of Royal Anne and Bings already harvested has been excellent, with no splits, and sizes larger than for several years. Peaches and apricots are sizing satisfactorily with apricots showing considerable color in some blocks. With present conditions, ripening should be fairly rapid, and movement of this crop may start in the next ten days.

In the small fruits, raspberries are past their peak and the crop has been shortened somewhat by heat and drought conditions. Harvesting of the black currant crop is now well advanced.

is now under way and the majority of this will go to the processing plants.

In vegetable crops, there is still a very free movement of all kinds of vegetables ready for harvest. The potato movement has been quite heavy and this crop is showing quite good yields and quality in the early varieties. Celery is now moving freely in the Armstrong district, and the later seedlings of lettuce are also showing good movement. The peak of the hothouse crop is now past and field tomatoes are sizing rapidly. This crop is enjoying the heat and shows good condition in the field. Canning beans are now moving to the processing plant.

In general field crops, harvesting of fall rye and wheat, also the dried pea crop, is now under way. Spring grains are coming rapidly to maturity. Heat and drought combined have had the effect of tippling a number of the spring grain stands, also the dried pea crop, and the yields of these will not fulfill the promise of a month ago. Some excellent timothy crops are now being stacked, and second crop alfalfa is well advanced.

The pest situation in general is not serious, although aphids are quite general throughout the orchards, and the onion thrip damage is now becoming very noticeable. With continued hot weather, the damage from this pest may be serious enough to reduce the size of the bulb, and consequently the yield. The first brood flight of codling moth has been over for some time and in general there seems to have been very satisfactory control obtained by growers throughout the district. Indications are that the second brood flight of codling moth has been over for some time and in general there seems to have been very satisfactory control obtained by growers throughout the district. Indications are that the second brood flight of codling moth has been over for some time and in general there seems to have been very satisfactory control obtained by growers throughout the district.

Kelowna

As reported July 4th: Since our last report the weather has been dry and hot. Rain is needed in those districts where there is a shortage of irrigation water and would be welcomed in nearly all districts.

The last of the cherry crop is coming off this week. Harvesting conditions have been ideal. The fruit was of good size and quality and the demand generally satisfactory. Thinning of the apple crop is well advanced and has been more general than usual. Apples are sizing well. Apple mildew is more prevalent than usual and codling moth infestation to date about average. Though the set of prunes was better than last year, the drop has been less and the crop is sizing rapidly. Indications are that this crop will be of good size and quality.

There is a good assortment of vegetables available for market. Beans, tomato and onion crops are progressing favorably.

Westbank, Peachland, Naramata, Summerland

As reported July 3rd: The past two weeks have been very hot and dry. Soil moisture is very low in some sections and heavy drying winds have aggravated this condition. Growers are hopeful against very soon to ease up the critical situation. Orchards generally are looking well, notwithstanding this extreme heat and low humidity. The cherry harvest is now over, and weather conditions favored the picking of a quality crop. The movement of apricots and peach plums is expected the first of next week. The season is at least ten

NUPTIALS UNITE TWO FAMILIES AT WESTBANK

Audrey Bernice Gellatly and Clifford Douglas Dobbin are Married on Lawn of Bride's Parents

A simple, but charming wedding which united two old-time families of the Westbank district, was solemnized on Sunday, July 14, on the lawn, at the home of the bride's parents, when Audrey Bernice, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Gellatly, became the bride of Clifford Douglas, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Dobbin, Rev. J. D. Gilliam, B.A., of Penticton, officiating.

The bride entered the garden on the arm of her father, to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, played by her aunt, Miss Grace Hewlett, and the ceremony was performed beneath an arch of flowers and greenery at 7.30 in the evening. The guests, numbering about fifty, included, besides relatives of the bride and groom, only a few intimate friends.

Looking lovely in a floor-length dress of turquoise organza, and wearing a picture-hat of pale pink mohair and velvet, the bride carried a bouquet of pink roses, gypsophylla and fern.

Her bridesmaid, a school-fellow and childhood friend, Miss Betty Carre, wore a dress similar in style to the bride's, but of pale pink net. Her hat was of blue straw, with white appliques, and she carried cream roses and fern.

The groom was supported by one of his former schoolfellows, Robin Drought.

During the signing of the register, Miss Olive Dobbin, sister of the groom, sang, "O, Perfect Love."

Following the ceremony, a reception was held, when the bride's mother in blue figured sheer, and the groom's mother, also in figured silk, assisted the bride and groom in receiving the guests.

A three-tiered wedding-cake centred the bride's table, which was covered with a heavy crocheted cloth, the work of the bride's mother.

For travelling, the bride wore a dress of silk crepe in plum shade, and trimmed with beading, and the young couple left by car on their honeymoon, amid the good wishes of all present as well as those of the entire community in which they have lived since early childhood.

Although the date of the wedding had been hastened, a number of lovely gifts were received by a bride on her wedding day.

WEDDING AT VANCOUVER OF INTEREST HERE

Barbara Walter Fry Becomes Bride of Edward Dal Burrellington Hawshaw at St. Paul's Church

A wedding ceremony of local interest took place at St. Paul's Church, Vancouver, on Sunday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, when Barbara Walter, daughter of Mrs. Helen Fry, of Kelowna, became the bride of Mr. Edward Dal Burrellington Hawshaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hawshaw. Canon H. G. King performed the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by Mr. Tony Pooley, chose an attractive aqua green dressmaker suit, with which she wore a white turban and white accessories. Her corsage was of gardenias.

Miss Kathleen Hill was the bridesmaid and Mr. Philip Ford supported the groom as best man.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Georgia Hotel where Mrs. Fry and Mrs. Hawshaw were assisted in receiving the guests by Mrs. I. Ford and Miss K. Hill.

Mrs. Fry chose a becoming white silk jersey frock and navy straw hat with navy accessories, while Mrs. Hawshaw was smart in an all black ensemble. Mrs. A. C. Turner and Mrs. E. Hill presided at the urns.

"And She Says..."

About your sun tan for the war... Come one, come all, stenographers and business girls in B. C. Gather sun tan while we may—for the war! Bare legs are cutting capers around towns throughout the province this summer and they're doing it for the Red Cross. Give up your silk stockings, and get in the swim with the "Sun-tan-for-the-war" campaign, which has been organized by business girls that those who have not ordinarily the time to put into war activities can satisfy the urge to "do something" for the war.

The "Sun-tan-for-the-war" committee plans to register 1,000 girls or more throughout the province who will pledge themselves to give up $2.00 a month for July and August, part of the amount they spend on stockings, and to gain a healthy tan through sacrificing the glamour and mystery of silk stockings. Registration forms may be obtained from Kitty Haverfield, Okanagan Mission, or Daphne Edwards, Room 7, 821 West Pender St., Vancouver. The campaign opened July 1st, so register immediately and start your Sun tan for the war right now.

About your cat... Cow's milk is not good for kittens, and poultry or chop bones should never be given to cats. It is cruel as well as dangerous to put a ribbon or a collar on your cat... A house cat needs a scratching post or don't you mind the upholstery being clawed? If you are taking your cat with you on your holidays, it is advisable to put it in a well-fastened basket or sort of cage, with plenty of ventilation.

About your knitting... When casting on a large number of stitches, a long colored thread, knitted in with every tenth stitch, will save a lot of troublesome re-counting. Yarns other than pure wool should be pressed, but through a muslin cloth, and not with a gliding iron movement, but with a light lifting movement. Rewinding wool that has already been knitted and is irked can be brightened out by winding it round an aluminium hot-water bottle. Fill the bottle with boiling water and leave until cool. When the wool is removed, the kinks will have disappeared.

About your complexion... Dark green vegetables are the best source of vegetable iron. Fresh juices of spinach, parsley and water-cress make the most powerful skin tonics for pale people. Swimming and tennis and sunning dry up your skin and plenty of Vitamin G is needed to correct this. Examples? Milk, butter, eggs, beans, fresh fruit and vegetables—whole wheat and whole rye.

About your refugees... What to do? Nieces, nephews, grandchildren, children of friends or children of strangers—coming to western safety and Okanagan hospitality. They must be fed and clothed, but they must also be helped to adjust themselves to this different life. The main thing to remember is patience—real patience and not martyred, grim silence. One adopted mother worked this out so well that a friend remarked: "At first I wondered how you could stay so patient and not lose your temper—and then I thought, well, that was your task. You didn't have anything worrying you and could do right by the child." Most of us sincerely desire the latter. But the attainment of a state where nothing is worrying you is no simple matter. It takes time and planning and the co-operation of every member of the household. Overheard in England... "English girl! 'Oh, you are a Colonial, aren't you?'" Kelowna boy: "How did you know I come from Kelowna?"

The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. W. Fry, of the Free Church of England, in the garden of the bride's parents beneath a canopy of crimson roses.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, chose a turquoise blue and white printed crepe afternoon frock with a navy tricorn hat trimmed with white. Gardenias and pink roses were in her corsage.

Miss Mary Patricia Allin, sister of the groom, was the only attendant and she wore a striped frock of turquoise navy and white, with matching turban.

Jam and Jelly Making with CERTO is quick...easy...SURE

3 out of 4 Prizewinning Experts Make Regular Use of CERTO

Mrs. Ira S. Simpson of Oxford, N.S.—Prizewinner at Oxford Exhibition, writes: "I have used Certo for several years and find it a great aid in making jellies and jams. I have taken several prizes at recent exhibitions, and cannot praise Certo too highly."

How Certo Can Save You Time, Money, Work and Worry

It's Quicker—Easier. Certo saves so much time and energy in jam and jelly making. Here's why. For jams you need give only a one-minute to two-minute full rolling boil—four jellies only a half-minute to a minute. "Certo saves time and spares one a lot of trouble and worry," writes Mrs. G. G. Proulx, Prizewinner at Aylmer Fair (Que.).

More Jam or Jelly. So little juice can boil away in this short time that you get up to half again as much jam or jelly from an equal amount of fruit. Writes Mrs. Thelma Yelland, Prizewinner at Lindsay Fair (Ont

CITY GRANT OF $50 RETURNED BY GLENMORE

Adjoining Municipality Finds that Mosquito Control Work Was not so Heavy and Returns Kelowna Cheque

Glenmore Municipality has handed back the City of Kelowna's cheque for $50, being a grant towards the municipality to assist in mosquito control work. Mayor McKay, on Monday evening, remarked that this move on the part of Glenmore shows the proper spirit of cooperation and he expressed his pleasure at the action. The rest of the council concurred.

In returning Kelowna's grant of $50, R. W. Corner, Municipal Clerk, declared: "The council will not need the grant of $50 for mosquito control which your council voted for this year. The exceptional weather has dried up some of the breeding sloughs and less oil spraying has been required than we estimated. I am instructed to express my council's appreciation of the cooperation and assistance of your council in this work and again to thank them for the grant of $50 which, under other circumstances, we would be glad to accept."

The local Red Cross organization has completed its quotas of pyjamas and is now busy making pillow cases.

It was previously arranged that St. Mary's Sunday school picnic should be held in the Kelowna picnic grounds. However, since it has been decided that the water there is not safe for small children, the picnic will be held in the Gyo Park.

Mrs. R. Allport is visiting her daughters, Miss Margaret Allport and Miss Betty Allport, at the coast.

Ernie Snowsell of Glenmore, Speaks To Canada From Great Britain

One of Rescued Sailors from Canadian Destroyer Fraser, Heard Here in B.B.C. Broadcast on Saturday Night

Mr. and Mrs. H. Snowsell, of Bankhead, had one evening's experience on Saturday evening last of hearing the voice of their son, Ernie, speaking from England over the radio. Ernie is one of the one-hundred-and-fifty crew who were rescued from the Canadian destroyer, Fraser, which was sunk in a collision, a short time ago.

After speaking to his parents and each member of the family, he was questioned by the commentator, concerning his escape from the sinking ship. He said he could see nothing as he was smothered with fuel oil, and his rescuers took him and washed him off. He is now recovered and expecting to go to sea again after having a rest since his trying ordeal.

A short time before the broadcast, the Snowsell family received a cablegram, asking them to be tuned in for the broadcast, otherwise they would all have been away, and would have been keenly disappointed.

Mrs. Percy Rankin spent a few days last week at Dee Lake with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hubbard.

Alberta Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wright and their four children, accompanied by Miss Verdon Reid, motored over from Lethbridge, Alberta, on Monday, and were guests at the home of their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Watson, for the past week. They left on Monday for the coast, where they will visit relatives for some time before returning home.

G. W. H. Reed, left on Friday for Shaughnessy Hospital, where he expects to undergo treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Snowsell, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Percy Green, Phil Mowbray and Geo. Reed jr., left on Sunday for a trip over the new Big Bend road.

Harry Kinner, of Vancouver, is spending his school holidays with his aunt, Mrs. G. W. H. Reed.

Mrs. Archie Rankin and two children are spending two weeks' holiday at Beaver Lake.

Dr. Irving, of Yorkton, Sask., was in this district last week looking after his orchard business. He visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Snowsell, on Friday.

During the electric storm on Friday last, a tree at Bankhead was struck and broken in two.

Need Clothing

There was a good attendance at the Red Cross sewing meeting last week, and there is great need for more clothing either old or new material, suitable for making over into children's garments for next winter, and also for patterns.

Miss Frances Hume is spending a holiday of several weeks with relatives in Nanaimo and Penticton.

Elwyn and Gordon Marshall have returned from a visit to their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Morro, at Kamloops.

Glenmore Men in Army

The last of our Glenmore men to have enlisted for overseas service are Stanley Kerr and Albert Scott, who have gone within the last few days and are now at the coast. Others who have gone are Stewart Macro and Cyril Mowbray, who went to England about two and three years ago; James Maxwell, who enlisted in Calgary about three months ago and is now at Camp Shilo, Man.; J. R. Harvey, in Army Service Corps at Esquimalt; Albert Harvey, enlisted two weeks ago and is now at New Westminster; Ernest Snowsell, in England; his brother, Frank, at the coast; and Bob Morgan, at Calgary. Bob is still regarded as a Glenmore boy, although he had lived in Kelowna for the past few years.

MINE SYNDICATE MEETS

A well attended meeting of the directors and larger shareholders of the Mayflower Mining Syndicate, whose property is situated at Rossland, B. C., was held at the Royal Anne Hotel, Kelowna, on July 15. R. W. Hagen, consulting engineer of the company, reported at length on the progress of this successful operation and on the ore bodies which have been located. It is expected that within three months shipping will commence, and in view of the great demand for gold, the business men of the Valley who financed the mine in its early development stages are confident that a mine of considerable magnitude will shortly be opened up.

FOUR HUNDRED CANS OF BEANS ARE PACKED

Committee Canning Fruit and Vegetables Still in Need of Cash to Purchase Cans—Apricots Could be Used

Canning fruit and vegetables continues at several homes and at the Rowcliffe Cannery plant, in preparation for the arrival in Kelowna of guests or refugee children, evacuated from Great Britain at the threat of German invasion, if such a scheme does materialize. An energetic group of women workers has been strenuously engaged in the past two to three weeks in canning surplus fruit and vegetables, and this week reports that four hundred cans of beans are ready for use now. The beans were donated mainly by Mrs. Fred Day, J. Lanfranco, K. Shiosaki, Jack Smith, Mr. Zelvel and an unknown friend.

A number of women, including a group at the Rowcliffe cannery, kindly donated their time, the committee reports.

Cherry jam and dried apples have been added to the store during the past week.

Morcello cherries would be welcome now, for they could be dried and stored at little expense. Also, donations of apricots could be cared for, as nothing should be allowed to waste, the committee indicates.

Suitable containers for jam could be used to advantage, as well as clean pop or beer bottles, which could be capped for tomato juice.

Tomatoes will soon be ready and that means more and more cans. These can be obtained at a good discount if gifts of cash are made to the cause. A generous donation for cans has been received from J. G. Adam.

Tomato growers are asked to keep this committee in mind and to telephone either Mrs. Fred Day or Mrs. W. E. Adams if they can make any donations.

The subject of getting the British children here is still a problem, but this energetic ladies' committee will be ready and if not used for the children, the food will be utilized to further war effort in some other way.
